

Vantor Systems - Market Section

The left column discusses market size.

The addressable market for logistics software is estimated at four billion dollars and is growing at twelve percent annually.

Vantor targets small and mid-sized carriers who have been underserved by legacy vendors.

This paragraph belongs entirely to the left column and should read as one continuous block..

COLUMN_BREAK_MARKER

The right column discusses competition.

Three incumbents dominate the enterprise tier but none serve the small-carrier segment effectively.

Vantor competes on ease of onboarding and price.

This paragraph belongs entirely to the right column and should read as one continuous block distinct from the left..